MARKET QUOTATIONS

But Little Change in Prices From Last Week.

There is not much change in the vegetable market for today and as far as the quality of fresh vegetable is concerned there will not be any dearth in the supply, for it is certain that we will have a good supply of most all the vegetables that were at the market last week.

There is a good demand for the best quality of green stuff, and the market tomorrow will be able to supply almost all the known vegetable and fruits, especially Florida oranges, which are now coming north in large quantities and, being of the second picking, are very sweet. Potatoes are in good demand and the market displays a fine lot of northern and western grown stock at prices to suit everybody. There is a fine supply of rice, chickens and some game, such as quail and "old ducks." The prices of these goods are very reasonable, ranging as low as 18 cents a pound.

Large country eggs are still high, selling for 40 to 45 cents, but there is a good supply of western eggs at 30 cents which is said to be giving very good satisfaction, very few spoiled ones being found.

The market on meats is about the same as during the past week. There is, however, a scarcity of veal, but the price will remain the same to the consumer. Buyers from Washington having been very active lately in picking up all calves they could find in the country makes fresh veal scarce compelling the dealers to pay more for good calves. Pork is plentiful and never has been of such fine quality, the sausage meats being of good appearance and on account of its freshness and fine taste the dealers are selling it very rapidly. It is seen that the beef on the market today is of very fine quality, has a good appearance and is very tender. Buyers who like to eat beef have a splendid opportunity now to satisfy their taste for good articles.

German Pancakes.

One heaping cup of flour, one-half teaspoonful of salt, two cups of milk or water, three eggs. Sift flour and salt into a bowl, add milk or water and mix to a smooth batter, then add the beaten egg yolks. Beat the white stiff and add gradually to the batter, stirring constantly. Place a medium-sized frying pan over the fire, with half a tablespoonful of butter or lard; as soon as hot pour in sufficient of the mixture to cover the bottom of the pan, shake the pan to and fro and bake until a light brown on one side; turn over and bake the other. Slip the pancake onto a hot plate and bake the remaining batter the same way. Serve at once. This quantity makes four pancakes.

Young Onions on Toast.

Clean the onions, then tie in bunches and cook in boiling water slightly salted until tender; drain off the water, cut the strings and place six onions on pieces of toasted bread.
Trim the green tops neatly. After the toast is placed on the platter pour over just sufficient hot water to slightly moisten. Dissolve a teaspoonful of beef extract in one cupful of hot water, then add it gradually to one tablespoonful of butter melted and mixed with one tablespoonful of flour, as is done for a cream sauce; stir until creamy, adding more hot water if too thick. Season with salt and pepper and pour over the onions.

The Grits Ball.

No, you don't dance it.
Neither do you throw it.
Rather it is designed to eat.
The shell is made of aluminum.
The round perforations admit the steam.
One cup of grits or rice is held in it.
The grits ball opens on a hinge just as does a tea ball.
It is handier and looks nicer than an ordinary bag.

Potted Chicken.

A chicken is cut up as for fricasse and to each pound of meat allow two tablespoonfuls of flour, one-half teaspoonful of salt (very scant) and a dash of pepper. Mix thoroughly and roll each piece of the meat in the mixture. Pack closely in a large bean pot and cover with boiling water; bake for three hours and a half.
Cover after 10 or 15 minutes, but not before it boils.

Hominy Cakes.

Take two breakfast cups of boiled hominy, beat it smooth, work in two cups of milk a teaspoon of salt, two cups of flour, lastly three eggs well beaten. Mix till all is thoroughly incorporated. Form the mixture into cakes; fry the same way as fritters.

Glass Over Paintings.

Yielding to the criticism of artists and art experts, the authorities at the galleries of the Louvre have removed the glass that covered and was supposed to protect some famous pictures. A few, however, are yet inclosed in glass, and among these are the Antiope of Correggio, the Laura Di-anti of Titian and the Concert Cham-petre of Giorgione. It is held that for all purposes of art, for study, for admiration, the canvasses should be naked, as under glass all the fine qualities of these great paintings are lost.
Examination of the paintings from which the glass has been removed shows that a number of them, among which is Titian's famous Man With the Torn Glove, have been injured by moisture that formed under the glass; others are the Antiope of Correggio, the Country Concert of Giorgione and the Virgin on the Rocks, of Leonardo da Vinci. "All these deteriorations," says a critic, "have been without doubt accelerated by moisture inclosed by glass."

In Simple Language.

Beware of the habit of using big words. Like other habits, it grows upon its victim. A horrible example is instanced by the Philadelphia Public Ledger.

The superintendent of a Sunday school in Philadelphia recently called upon a visitor to "say a few words" to the school, the members of which are mostly children of tender age.

The visitor, a speaker well known for his verbose and circumlocutory manner of speech, began his address as follows:

"This morning, children, I purpose to offer you an epitome of the life of Saint Paul. It may be, perhaps, that there are among you some too young to grasp the meaning of the word 'epitome.' 'Epitome,' children, is in its signification synonymous with synopsis."

Bite of a Centipede.

Jeff Fitch has had about the closest call of his life the last few days. About one week ago, while sleeping in his bachelor quarters, he felt something bite him and after applying some turpentine he thought no more of it.
A day or two later the wound began to swell and in a short time Fitch was a very sick man. He was removed to the home of Chris Powell, where for a time it was feared he would not recover. A search of the room where Fitch had been sleeping revealed a dead centipede upon the floor back of the bed, where it had fallen when the half awakened man had crushed his tormentor. Fitch is now said to be out of danger, although far from recovered.—Arizona Republican.

A New Jersey policeman who recently inherited $100,000 has received 2,000 offers of marriage. It is evident that a lot of women think he is not going to be spotted by sudden riches.

A Chicago woman had her husband sent to jail for abandonment. Then she served his sentence with him. She knew he couldn't run away from her there.

A New York woman suing for divorce says her husband cursed her in seven languages. Evidently she is tired of the seven rages of man.
